ABOUT ME

I am an information technology specialist whose passion lies in harnessing the power of IT to better the lives of people everywhere. I have 3 years working experience as a web applications developer using technologies such as ASP.NET, Visual Basic .NET, C#, MSSQL and JQuery. I also spent 2 years' working as a missionary in the south-west area of Nigeria. As an individual, some of my strengths include determination, purpose and problem solving. I am a self-motivated, relentless individual who thrives with little or no supervision. I'm constantly on the lookout for new goals and improvements. I greatly enjoy learning, team work and bringing ideas into fruition.
